OUR TRADE RETURNS.

An English gentleman who has travelled the world over, and who returned to Europe on last Monday, in the Nord America, after a month's sojourn here, gave it as his opinion that there is no other country to-day that he knows of so new, so inviting and so progressing as the River Plate. If the populations of Europe only knew about this country, with its beautiful climate, extraordinary fertility of soil, high wages, cheap food, cheap lands and the best of everything in profusion, he said we should all soon be overwhelmed; capital and population would flood the country, and the ratio of everything in the Plate would be changed.

But the progress of the Plate would perhaps, not be so marked but for the low valuation of everything when that progress commenced. Even now, when there is so much fuss and noise made about our go-a-headism, our lands, our cattle and our food are cheaper than in any other civilized land, whilst our wages are higher.

In no other country can cows for breeding or for killing be purchased as cheaply as here. In no other land can a man buy a square league of good wheat-producing, black earth soil for the same money as in the Plate, and our English friend, a man of keen judgment and immense travel and experience, clasped his hands with wonder at the sale published in this paper of a "manada" of mares, of which 11 were tame riding mares, for $75 m/c each.

To his mind, as to ours, the progress of this country is but in its merest infancy. Ten years hence everything in the Plate will be different from now, and we can ask for no surer evidence of the steady march of the nation than our trade and immigration returns, which move everything.

Mr. Latzina has favoured us with his little statistical monthly pamphlet, which, on the present occasion, not only gives the trade for the last month, but for the first quarter of the year, ending 31st of March, 1884. We shall give the tables as we find them, and invite merchants and others to their closest study:—

Imports, March—
1883 Subject to duty	4,493,210
1884 do	5,259,671
Do. free of duty
1883	371,422
1884	337,916
Exports, March—
1884 Subject to duty	4,627,315
1883 do	3,628,928
Do. free of duty
1884	443,664
1883	289,655
Total Imports, March	5,597,587
Total Exports, March	5,070,979
Imports for first quarter year—
1883 total	14,726,388
1884 total	14,713,385
Exports do—
1884 total	19,374,646
1883 total	16,204,390

Here we find that whilst our imports this quarter, compared with those for the same term last year, are somewhat less, our exports for the same term show a magnificent increase of over three millions of gold dollars.

Again, our exports for the present quarter show a surplus over our imports of nearly one million sterling. With such figures who can be a pessimist in the Plate?

As it must necessarily be a matter of interest to our readers to know, on the best official authority, the real currents of our trade and the countries with which we do the largest business, we give the following detailed table of those imports and exports, which, we may well say, form the basis of our national existence

THE FLOODS IN THE SOUTH.

The inundation in Bahia Blanca was the most disastrous ever experienced there. There is scarcely a house in the town that is now in a safe, habitable condition. Nine-tenths of the houses are built of mud, foundations included; not an ounce of lime being used. The soil is strongly impregnated with saltpetre, and this eats into the mud till it crumbles away. Many houses have fallen, and others are tottering, owing to the action of the water on the mud foundations. All this comes from false economy in the haste to get rich. It is painful to see so many fine looking houses, built, so far as the overground part is concerned, at a great cost, yet which must now be pulled down, as the foundations are unsafe. "Penny wise and pound foolish." The difference in outlay between lime and mud for the foundations of a house is not much.

From Sauce Grande the news is bad. The river cannot be forded, so great is the flood, and the news from out-lying places is most alarming. At the mouth of the Quequen Grande there are over 10,000 drowned sheep. The puestos on the Carriegas estancia have 6 feet of water round them, yet, thanks to timely precautions, only a few sheep have been lost. Mr Ross, on the Sauce Grande, has lost all his sheep, and his neighbour, Mr Versos, has only eighteen left, while two of his puesteros were drowned. A curious thing happened on Mr Bellocq's estancia. A flock that was feeding on a high 'loma' was swept away and drowned, while others in a 'bajo' were saved. On the banks of the Sauce Grande and Quequen Salado, tercios of yerba, comestibles of various kinds, pots, pans and other domestic utensils were found, the wreck of some demolished house.

The Reformista of Juarez gives the following details:—"Juan Caminos, his wife, two children and a peon were fast asleep on the night of the 25th when they were awakened by a loud noise. The water rushed in, Caminos slung himself up to the roof where he remained clinging to the rafters. When morning dawned he found his wife and children dead, and everything in the house washed away, including 10,000 $% in notes. Some short distance off a widow named Etchecopar lived with her three daughters and a peon. The unfortunate woman and two of her girls were washed away and drowned; the other was saved by the peon, who carried her off on horseback. Only a year ago the husband was killed by a fall from his horse. The seven corpses of the two families mentioned were buried yesterday in this town.

Caminos, the survivor, gives an appalling account of the disaster. He says that many more people have been drowned, many houses destroyed, wire-fences washed away, and great loss of stock. At Pringles, where the new town is to be built, the brick makers had a narrow escape from death, by mounting to the top of the kilns; but all their tools, wheelbarrows etc were swept away by the raging waters. Many people saved themselves by getting on the roofs of their houses. A family who were in a cart near Jahuelitos were miraculously saved. The horse was washed away, but the cart withstood the waters, and the family escaped; but they lost 3000 sheep which they were driving. The rain was the most torrential ever witnessed in these parts, and its force was extraordinary.

The Porvenir of Bahia Blanca gives a terrible picture of the ravages of the floods. The diligence that left La Gama on the morning of the 25th could only get as far as Martin's 'pulperia.' It had to stay there next day, as the rain and waters from the hills prevented any attempt at a start. Martin's house stood the flood well, but half his goods were washed away. On Saturday the journey was resumed, but with great difficulty, as the most of the horses had strayed or been drowned. The passengers had a horrible scene of desolation before them as the coach tailed along. Muruaga's house on the Arroyo Sauce Grande has been washed away, the only thing visible about the place being a billiard table. The surface of the water looked like a Custom House deposit—pipes, cases, beer, casks bales of wool, entire corrals, furniture, all kinds of things floating about. The passes on the arroyo are all blocked up by stones borne along by the furious current, which extended fully 20 squares from the natural bed of the stream. Whole flocks of sheep have been drowned, leaving their owners without even anything to eat. The dead sheep are counted by thousands. In parts of the road, the water was up to the windows of the diligence. At Mr. Francis Ross's house, the inhabitants were saved by clinging to the canes of the roof; all his sheep are gone. Mr. F. Rojas of Blanqueada has also lost all. Mr. Charles Hutchinson lost 1600 sheep, and Mr. Claude Castro 1200. At Mr. Guiraud's barraca on the railway, large quantities of wool have been destroyed.

The Eco de Italia says that the railway embankment, instead of being a source of injury, was of immense benefit, as it prevented the waters getting into the town, a self-evident fact. The Porvenir demands that something be done to prevent a recurrence of the catastrophe. It estimates that 500 tons of water per second rolled down on the town during the inundation, and demands that artificial means for carrying off this immense mass of water must be adopted, in prevision of another inundation.

LATEST NEWS.

March 7th. 5. p.m.

Since writing to you this morning the evening papers have come, and as far as I am concerned, gone and with very little profit. There is a sad dearth of news of interest.

I can however give you some correction in regard to the failure of Messrs Parker.

The Press Association says:—"The reports which appeared in yesterday's papers respecting the firm of Messrs. Parker, solicitors, have led to a multitude of inquiries at the offices of the firm, and the solicitors who are acting for one member of it. On behalf of Mr William Searle Parker it is stated that he recently instituted proceedings in the Chancery Division of the High Court for a dissolution of his partnership with Mr. Frederick Parker, his object being to ascertain and determine the liabilities of the partners respectively, and to protect the partnership estates. In this action Mr. William Friere Marreco, of Clements-inn, and Mr. James Wood Tully, 78, Queen Victoria-street, have been appointed receivers, and with the assistance which the partners are giving to these gentlemen, such a favourable realisation of the estate is anticipated as would be hopeless in bankruptcy. It is further asserted that Messrs. Parker have not speculated either in building operations or on the Stock Exchange, and their transactions at Westgate-on-Sea, in particular, would show a favourable result. It is stated to be impossible now correctly to estimate the amount of the liabilities, but it is affirmed that they will certainly not approach one-tenth of the sum alleged, and that the assets under a favourable realisation, will cover them. The details published as to the cause of the supposed flight are declared to be entirely inaccurate, and, indeed, denial is given to the whole story of the flight. The difficulties of Mr. Frederick Parker are attributed to unfortunate speculations of his own, and the action raised against him by Mr. William Parker to a desire on the part of the latter to protect himself."

In regard to the Egyptian question I will first quote "Vanity Fair" which says:—

"There is a great conflict going on in the bosom of the Cabinet with regard to Egypt. Mr. Gladstone, Lord Granville, and Lord Derby are determined to carry on their present policy of expedients tending towards evacuation; and, being the chief authorities in the Cabinet, they have hitherto had their way, being supported by the submissive majority. Sir Charles Dilke, Mr Chamberlain, and Lord Northbrook take, however, a different view. They press for an English protectorate of Egypt, either permanent or for a fixed term of years, and are daily becoming more urgent in their demand that the Ministry should take up a 'strong' and definite attitude in this sense. The divergence of opinion between the two sections of the Cabinet is so great in this matter that, unless Mr. Gladstone yields, it is all but certain that the Government will break up within a few weeks."

Whether this be true or not, we can certainly see the same divergency and almost confusion of opinions outside the Cabinet.

The Times, this morning, is strongly of opinion that the success of General Gordon and the dwindling of the influence of the Mahdi, all favour a more active policy in Egypt as a whole, inclusive of the Soudan instead of Mr. Gladstone's policy of retiring from Egypt altogether on the first opportunity. Unhappily, even if Mr. Gladstone is right in his ideas, and I think he is, the opportunity never comes, because his vacillation leads to fresh difficulties; e.g. Gordon who was to be the saviour of us all, now asks for 600 Indian troops as a nucleus of an army. If this nucleus were annihilated, of course we should have to send 6,000 or 60,000 troops to the Soudan, and so the thing goes on from bad to worse. One thing, it saves us the trouble of thinking and talking about it, and all we have to do is read, mark, learn, and dig in the scissors. Here is a lot of stuff, and you can make what you can of it:—

"The Standard correspondent telegraphs that nothing had occurred to show what effect has been produced by General Gordon's proclamation calling upon Osman Digna's force to disperse. The fact that Osman Digna remains in his camp within ten miles of Suakin and that the friendly tribes still hold aloof from the British force, indicates that the natives are prepared to risk another battle. General Baker believes that as the British force advances Osman Digna will retire to the mountains, but old residents at Suakin believe that he will fight before retiring. The concentration of troops now proceeding at Suakin will, the correspondent believes, soon force both the local tribes and Osman to show their hands.

"The Cairo correspondent of the Daily Telegraph states that according to an official report 1,000 of the Mahdi's followers were defeated by the friendly tribes while marching from El Obeid upon Khartoum. Advices received at Cairo state that the Mahdi is growing unpopular among his adherents. General Gordon still believes that he can extricate the garrisons, and his conviction is shared by the Egyptian official world."

A Reuter's telegram says:—

"A telegram has been received from General Gordon announcing the arrival at Khartoum of an Egyptian officer from El Obeid, who reports that an expedition sent by the Mahdi into the province of Darfur has been defeated by Slatten Bey."

The Times correspondent at Khartoum telegraphs yesterday:—

"A man who has reached Khartoum from El Obeid states that the chief guide of Hicks Pasha used to meet emissaries of the Mahdi each night during the march, and that he arranged the ambuscade with them.

A telegram received by Reuter from Tangiers reports that the Sultan of Morocco has emphatically declared the Mahdi to be an impostor.

Suakin, March 7, Noon.

Flags of truce are flying upon the forts, but Osman Digna has hitherto flatly refused to come to terms. Some men from a few friendly tribes are arriving here in response to the proclamation issued by Admiral Hewett and Major-General Graham.

Mr. Parnell, on account of the refusal of the Government to amend the Irish Land Act, threatens a new and serious agitation which Mr. Davitt is to join, and the object of which will be undisguised Repeal of the Union. The new league is to be a national league including Ulster, Protestants and Catholics, landlords, tenants and labourers.

The council of the Cremation Society of England purchased, in the year 1878, a freehold site at St. John's, Woking, in Surrey, especially adapted by position for the purpose, and erected thereon a building, with an apparatus of the most approved kind for effecting cremation of the dead. They have issued a circular stating that the society felt it a duty to indicate those safeguards which they deem it essential to associate with the proceedings in order to prevent the destruction of a body which may have met death by unfair means. The following, therefore, are the conditions on which the employment of the crematorium will alone be permitted by the council:—

1. An application in writing must be made by the friends or executors of the deceased—unless it has been made by the deceased person himself during life—stating that it was the wish of the deceased to be cremated after death. 2. A certificate must be sent in by one qualified medical man at least, who attended the deceased until the time of death, unhesitatingly stating that the cause of death was natural, and what that cause was. 3. If no medical man attended during the illness, an autopsy must be made by a medical officer appointed by the society, or no cremation can take place.

Mr. Preece, the electrician of the Post Office, read a paper at the Society of Arts on the progress of electric lighting, in which he expressed a very sanguine view as to the future of the new illuminant. The day was fast approaching when we should cease to regard it as a luxury, but would demand it as a necessity. The cost of supplying electricity is far less than the cost of gas in its early days, and although electric company mongering and financing had resulted in disastrous failure, he declared that electric lighting was a most pronounced success. Until that success can be pronounced in the shape of a dividend, the public prefer to regard Mr. Preece's statements as prophecy rather than fact. Experiments are to be tried at Wimbledon, not before time, for the streets of that wealthy suburb have for some time past been lit by paraffin oil.

GREAT GALLANTRY AT THE BATTLE OF EL TEB.

The Times published the following telegram, dated March 3rd:—The 10th Hussars and the Naval Brigade marched back to-day, and to-morrow Tokar will be evacuated. The population are being provided with camels, and the last of them will be removed to-morrow, when General Graham with the remaining troops will return to Trinkitat. The general orders of yesterday announced the accomplishment of the object of the expedition, and thanked the troops and the infantry for their steadiness, endurance, and good discipline; the naval brigade for their cheerful exertions in dragging heavy guns across a difficult country in severe heat, under enforced scarcity of water, and for their labours under fire; and the cavalry brigade for their dash and almost reckless gallantry in action, and their invaluable services in scouting and reconnaissance duties. The 10th Hussars, on marching off, heartily cheered General Stewart and General Graham. Officers and men are unanimous in their admiration of the extreme coolness and capacity shown by General Graham in directing the infantry in battle. Going from point to point of the square he was exposed to the hottest fire throughout. Many gallant deeds are recorded. General Buller has recommended Captain Wilson, R.N., of the Hecla, for an action which he describes as one of the most courageous he has ever witnessed. There was a gap in the square, and five or six of the enemy seeing it rushed forward, attempting to pierce the ranks, when Captain Wilson advanced to meet them alone. Breaking his sword in his effort to cut one of them down, he would not retire a step, but held his ground, knocking them down with his fists. Either by miracle or the surprising nature of his attack, he escaped with a few wounds, and the square closing up rescued him. Two sergeants and a trooper of the 19th Hussars saved Colonel Barrow with great courage, which might be inferred from the fact alone that no other officer or man severely wounded escaped to live. One trumpeter, terribly cut about by spears, was carried out only to die. When Colonel Barrow was wounded, Sergeant Marshall caught him as he fell from his horse, and, seizing a loose horse, tried to place his colonel on it. Then came up Trooper Bosely, to whom belonged the loose horse, which had fallen. Boseley, on foot, under a heavy fire, and through masses of the enemy, supported the wounded officer into our infantry lines, aided by Sergeant Fenton. Sergeant Marshall, knowing that his troop would be feeling the loss of officers, reported it. A corporal of the 19th Hussars had four horses killed under him—three by rifle bullets and one by spears. In the last case, at the moment his horse was killed a trooper near him was killed also, and he leaped into the empty saddle. The daring of the scouting up to Tokar may be illustrated by the fact that Sergeant James Tatt, of the 19th Hussars, being ordered to push forward on scouting duty, finding himself close to Tokar, alone, entered the town, not knowing whether it was friendly or hostile. He was the first man in Tokar, and brought out the inhabitants, who ran up to General Stewart. The 10th Hussars record equally bold actions, which have not yet been recorded in detail. Over 2000 dead have been counted at Teb, and if a similar number is set down as wounded it will be seen how large was the enemy's force. There is no doubt that the well-judged charge of the cavalry in point of time cut through masses of the enemy who were crowding on to reinforce the combatants in the entrenchment. It is said that no such cavalry brigade as this—nearly eight hundred sabres—has charged the enemy under a brigadier since Waterloo.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

March 3rd.

M. de Lesseps has been elected an Academician; out of 33 votes, he received 22; the shadow over the success was ten white balls, or protests against his claims. There are, and there have been, less meritorious men elected "Immortals." A pamphlet was freely circulated before the vote, setting forth that de Lesseps only sought election, the better to bolster up his Canal schemes. Call no man happy till he is dead.

Francois Coppée was also elected an Immortal at the same time. He is a poet of the Realistic and the Romantic schools at once. De Tocqueville says, "Rousseau begat Bernardin de St. Pierre, who begat Chateaubriand, who begat Hugo, who being tempted of the devil, is begetting every day." Coppée is the poet of the Zola school; in his 'Nevroses,' we have the poetry of corpses and decomposition; of mites in cheese, etc, and enraged tom-cats. Laughter and tears alike make him miserable. In his 'Les Humbles,' he rhymes the sorrows of a poor peasant wet nurse, rearing a rich man's child to the neglect of her own; "Le Petit Epicier" describes the fortune and ambition of a lowly grocer, limited to his counter. "Le Passant" is a little one act poem, which enabled him, like Byron, one morning to awake and find himself famous. His Severo Torelli, a five act tragedy, now being represented, at the Odeon theatre, is his master-piece. Coppée is forty-two years of age and very rich. The name of his country house is over the entrance gate in gold letters, and is that of one of his plays; and his horses and dogs are baptized after the characters in his poems.

The scandal in the Rue Royale club, a kind of Brook's establishment, only becomes more intense. The valet of the play-room, Monvoisin, is still under arrest. The marked cards were found in his trunk, and 90,000 fr.; it was he who lent money to the members, at cent per cent interest. He steadily refuses to name the members who were his accomplices; five black sheep are indicated, by fellow members avoiding their salutes in the street and their hands in the club; these cheaters are called 'Greeks.' To banish that Hellenism from the Club, it is proposed to dissolve the club and re-elect members with the Duc d'Aumale for president.

Signs and tokens are plentiful that Lent is nigh; the shops are full of red-colored, hard-boiled eggs and cod-fish. People are living retired for the ceremony of Ash Wednesday, ever a thronged time at the churches. Ashes are a sign we know of penitence. Bossuet said, Providence in order to demonstrate our equality, makes us all of the same ashes. The Emperor Severus when dying, commanded his urn to be brought to him; while viewing it, he said, respecting his ashes that were to be placed therein: "It will contain him that the universe was not able to contain." He would shrink to that petty measure. It may not be generally known, that the ashes employed by the church are prepared from the burning of altar linen or box wood. In Italy, palm is used. The Persians had the Ash-punishment; the culprit was thrown into a tower, head downwards, partly filled with ashes; a wheel was then turned, to kick up a dust, and suffocate him. The temple of Jupiter Olympus was largely constructed of the ashes, made into a mortar, of the thighs of the victims sacrificed. Ashes are the sign of penitence, grief, and ill-luck. Deep mourning and sorrow implied sprinkling ashes on the head, and wearing sacking. The figurative phrase, 'ashes,' was applied to the remains of Napoleon I, which are perfectly conserved; the masses at once concluded, and still believe, that the English had thus burned the Emperor after his death. All due to Sir Hudson Lowe no doubt.

The French Chambers are about adopting a mechanical plan for counting votes; each deputy would deposit a metal ticket in a graduated cylinder, like dropping coin in a tube; the readings of the 'yes' and 'no' could be thus made at a glance.

Marseilles has a capital link-boy, who, if in London would make a fortune; he suffers from nyctalope, that is, can only see or read in night or dark. In day-light he has to be led.

"What piece do you rehearse at your theatre?" when will our arrears be paid?"—Spendthrift nephew: "A cheap tomb-stone for my uncle, as a proof of my frugality."

THE BAHIA BLANCA FLOODS.

Since I last wrote to you I have not had the pleasure of receiving any of your famous double-barreled epistles from dear, dirty Buenos Aires, but that may be owing to the stoppage of the Galeras by the heavy rains we have had here.

No doubt you will have heard, ere this reaches you, that we have been nearly all drowned out at Bahia Blanca. The 26th of March will long be remembered here as the Bajo Hondo deluge, and a much more important one to us than Noah's little affair. It commenced raining on the 24th, and continued pouring buckets till the night of the 26th, and never, in the recollection of the oldest settler, has such a volume of rain fallen in this district.

At five o'clock, a.m., just as we were indulging in our usual "matè," a tidal wave, as it were, came rushing and hissing down the "bajo," sweeping everything before it: corrales, fences, ranchos, live stock, and all that it came into contact with disappeared like magic. The water rose to within 20 yards of my house, and you know that it is built on pretty high ground, so you can imagine we were considerably scared, when we beheld a rent about 500 yards wide instantaneously appear, where no river has been for centuries.

As luck would have it, we happened to observe this long wall of water approaching, and just had time to run out the sheep ere the flood went rushing through the corral, carrying all before it. We had a thousand yards of wire-fencing, and all our "jagüel" utensils, throughs, &c., swept off, but we have recovered the greater part of them, twenty squares further down the stream. The wire, I think, will be of no more use, as it is twisted and entangled into a thousand shapes and forms.

We have had no losses in live stock, but I believe all round our immediate neighbourhood the losses have been very considerable. W. Sheriff had to fly from his house, which had been erected in rather a low part of the Bajo. Juan and J., after getting things square at home, galloped over to his assistance, and found him inundated four feet deep, and a good deal of his furniture floating out. He had taken the precaution to lock the doors, but the force of the current burst them open again, so we had to swim in on horseback, and finally succeeded in making them secure. S. has started a home higher up the Loma, in case of future flooding.

After 24 hours the waters abated and then went down as suddenly as they arose.

On Naposta Grande I imagine the losses must have been very considerable, but as yet not known, although I have heard of several flocks that have been swept away.

Messrs. Chance and Casilet's house was carried away, but none of their sheep lost. Juan went to Bahia Blanca yesterday and reports the floods having worked great havoc there. A number of houses fallen and several lives lost. The whole town was one sea, and large portions of the railway embankment have been carried away. Bahia Blanca, of course, receives the waters from both Naposta Grande and Sauce Chico, which were quite close to the town, and one on each side.

On the Sauce Grande the losses have been very great. My friend E. Brown lost all his fences. Henistrosa has lost all his sheep. The losses have been severe on all sides, but are not yet known to the full extent.

Mr. Shay and family took shelter on the roof of their house for twenty-four hours. The house is said to have fallen, but I do not know of any lives having been lost.

At Henistrosa a girl was drowned, and, further down the stream, one man, John Niven and family, were also on the roof for twenty-four hours, but I believe they are all safe.

In my next I will be able to give further details.

Such is life on the pampas wild.

THE WEST ARGENTINE GOLD COMPANY.

In a previous issue of our journal, we directed attention to the great mineral resources of the Argentine Republic and were able to state that a new company had been formed to acquire and work some exceedingly valuable and productive gold mines (alluvial and quartz) in the Andine province of San Luis. We are now in a position to refer our readers to the prospectus of this important enterprise, a perusal of it will show that the favourable opinions we have already ventured to express with respect to San Luis generally, and, in particular with reference to the valuable character of the properties to be purchased and developed by this company, have been confirmed in the most emphatic and conclusive manner by competent authorities. In fact, we know of no undertaking of this description whose prospects of profit are more assured, or where the dividend returns on invested capital are more likely to be exceptionally satisfactory. The properties taken over have been worked, and proved to contain so large a percentage of gold as practically to divest the operations of the company of any element of uncertainty. From the alluvial mine at Cañada Honda alone, it will be seen that Mr. Wileman estimates that (calculating on no more than one-half the yield actually being obtained) a net annual profit will be made of £61,456, which would mean a return in one year of the entire capital, which, very wisely, has not been fixed at an excessive amount. This is very advantageous, and we are also pleased to observe that the vendors (not that we wonder at this) have preferred to receive the whole of their consideration for the properties in shares. We question, indeed, whether the owners would have accepted cash, as evidently the shares must be much more valuable than the sum nominally represented by them, so soon as sufficient capital is brought to bear on the working of the mines. The gold quartz mines are also exceedingly rich. Referring our readers for details to the prospectus itself, we have much satisfaction in recommending this enterprise to all who desire to make a safe and remunerative investment of money:—South American Journal.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

No mails, no passengers, nothing but the Telegrafo Maritimo came up from the Mount yesterday morning. Tuesday was such a lively day with old Neptune that the Magellan's and Maskelyne's passengers could not land, nor could the "visit" venture out to them. As yesterday was tolerably fine, we may expect the tempest-tossed mails and travellers here to-day.

The inauguration of the new Public School buildings has been again postponed, till May 24th.

The robbery in the English Bank at Rosario was a mere trifle—1300 pats, and the porter of the Bank has been arrested as the supposed culprit.

The Honble E. Monson, Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary, has received a telegram stating that the fatal accident to the Duke of Albany occurred at Cannes. The Times of the 10th March says that Her Majesty intended to leave England for Germany on the 4th of this month.

"Nos Bons Villageois," at the Opera House on Tuesday night, was a decided success. The company is a much better one than some of the papers say.

There will be no official visit to the Churches to-day. President Roca, Dr. Plaza and other Ministers left town yesterday for the holidays; squads of troops from the regiments in garrison will be marched round to the churches as usual.

We give some additional particulars of the floods in the South in another column. Some of the scenes described are heartrending. Fancy a father holding on to the rafters of his room all night, to save himself from drowning, and in the morning seeing the corpses of his wife and daughters washed away at his feet! The South has never witnessed such a catastrophe before. The climate of the country is changing, not a doubt of it.

We had a visit from Mr. Calzetta, of Carapachay, yesterday. He brought us a specimen of fruit preserved on his island, and we intend doing it full justice to-night, reserving our report till afterwards. The factory is hard at work preserving pears, apples, oranges and peaches, and we expect that it will become a flourishing industry. Mr. Calzetta reports the Tigre water, wind and weather, just the thing for a trip, and not in the least cold.

The R.M.S. Avon wont be out of sanitary observation till the 12th inst, just in time for the passengers to have their Easter eggs on shore.

The Court of Cassation in Paris appears to think that foreign Consuls are the next thing to nobodies. It has recently decided that they are neither diplomatic agents, nor public functionaries, nor citizens entrusted with a new public service; they are simply private parties, and if anybody libels them, they must go to the ordinary assize courts for redress.

Mr. Calderon, Chief of Provincial Police, has just issued a circular to his subordinates telling them to act vigorously with those "pulperos" who serve too much drink to customers across the counter. Mr. C. declares that drunkenness is now the ruling vice in the camp and the cause of most of the crimes that are committed in it, and he is determined to grapple with the evil. It is, certainly, a very painful fact that drunkenness is greatly on the increase in the camp of late years.

The Conference at Washington on October 1st next, to adopt a common Meridian and unify the time of day all over the world will be very interesting. It is already understood that all the governments will order their delegates to support the adoption of the Greenwich time and Meridian. France, as usual, is showing a little jealousy, and wants the Paris Meridian adopted.

We received yesterday a copy of the Registro Official of Bolivia. Should any subscriber wish for some unusually exciting reading matter during the holidays, we will lend him the Registro; but he must promise to take great care of it.

At Exaltacion de la Cruz the other day, a boy aged 17 shot himself dead owing to disappointed love! A nice education and moral training the boy must have had?

All the banks are closed to-day and to-morrow, and no man will be able to get a dollar, even to save his live.

The Spanish Club have issued invitations for a sacred concert on Saturday next, in which the Quartette Society and all the best instrumentalists in town will take part. It will be a refined treat for those with musical souls.

Alderman Aleu is going to propose the creation of a Municipal Guard, to enforce the orders of the Municipality. The Alderman is also in favour of selling the Capital Lottery.

Many of the criminals convicted of minor felonies, larcenies, &c., have been liberated by the Supreme Court. It is a custom to do so here on the approach of the Resurrection day, but most of these poor specimens of humanity were "run in" for minor offences that 6 or 8 days' imprisonment would more than cover, yet the poor fellows have been more than six months awaiting their release.

The little cutter Anita, manned by a crew of the Marina Club, left last night for a run to Colonia. It is a good sign to see some of our yatching men venture even so far. Sailors are never made by theory only, and instead of lying in the river our naval cadets ought to be at least half the year on service, then they might prove of some use to the country.

A young Argentine, Juan B. Garcia Alberdi, nephew of the well-known statistician, has set out for Bolivia to study, under the renowned French doctor, Zack, the properties of "quina," a species of Peruvian bark. The latter gentleman, who has written many scientific works, will be placed at the head of a great laboratory about to be established by Government, and all the materials for which have been already brought from Europe.

An Alexandria, Va., man, made two attempts, while drunk, to commit suicide, by throwing himself before railroad trains, but was both times prevented. He was fined next day for "obstructing railroad trains."

At the general meeting of the Progreso Club, held on Tuesday evening, the following gentlemen were elected to form the new committee: Titulares—D. Sixto Quesada, Dr. Carlos Dimet and Dr. Mariano Gainza, Suplentes—Dr. L. Basavilbasso, Dr. Manuel Araoz, Dr. Federico Gomez Molina.

DISCIPLINE.

To the Editors of the Standard

Gentlemen,

The deeds of the great ones of the world invariably find ready chroniclers. There are actions, nevertheless, on the part of those of less elevated station, which well deserve to be enshrined in memory and to be emblazoned in characters of gold.

Some years ago an Admiralty transport, the Birkenhead, was engaged in conveying troops from England with a view to relieve the garrison at the Cape of Good Hope. When approximately in the latitude of that promontory, a severe gale arose and so shook the vessel that the commander renounced all hope of its safety.

Thereupon, the soldiers were drawn up on deck as though on parade; and the orders 'attention"! "Shoulder arms"! were given in succession.

Meanwhile, the wives and children of the soldiers had been carefully deposited in the ship's boats, which happily sufficed to contain them; and sailors had been told off, in order to act as oarsmen etc.

And thus, with shouldered arms and their officers at their head, surrounded by the commander and the remaining seamen of the transport, and in view of their wives and well-loved little ones;—silently, calmly, unflinchingly—these intrepid men went down.

The respective names of Curtius, o Scœvola, of Regulus, still resound and find fitting echo. Fain would I have it in my power to record, and to proclaim from the house-tops, the name of each of the noble men whose heroic self-denial, dedication and devotion to duty I have thus feebly endeavoured to portray.

For scores of years, on sea, on shore,
That flag has braved the breeze;
Yet higher, brighter, does it soar,
When borne by hands like these.

April 3rd, 1884.

Yours faithfully
Vindex

Dear Sirs,

I have much pleasure in stating that I cured all my flocks this season with the "Golden Leaf Extract" and found the result highly satisfactory, and in future do not intend to use any other dip.

After first using the "Golden Leaf," I found it such a perfect cure for Scab that I recommended it to several of my neighbours who have all proved it equally good.

Yours truly
W. R. GRANT.

Cedulas A	101
Cedulas E	89½
Cedulas F	85½
National Bank Shares....	137½
Nat. Bank Certificados....	45 o/o prem.

There was a slight turn in the National Bank Share market to-day caused by one or two parties who bought at 130 realizing. Although the amount of shares let go was not very heavy, still it weakened everything. The big men stand back and neither buy nor sell, and of course so long as the large holders do not sell, no permanent fall can be established; still everyone thinks the shares high, and it requires a very large sum of money now to pay for one thousand shares, which is but a trifle for large speculators. Cedulas rule very upward and as their shipment, Series E, continues to England it is thought that this stock has also turned the corner and is now bound for a still further rise. Series F ruled firmer than yesterday and closed firm at 85½.

The Banks will remain closed for the next two days, and will reopen on Saturday.

Exchange at last shows the least possible reaction and bills were offering at 5.02 on France and not passed; bills on Montevideo offered at 3 and few takers. Much money has come back from Montevideo for exchange on Europe.

The great news of moment in the market is the split amongst the Judges about moving out to La Plata. Only one of all the Provincial Judges has consented to move out. There is a black political cloud gathering over La Plata. A new party is rising to protest against the new Capital, and they say on 'Change that it is all moonshine to suppose that people are going to break up their homes in town and move out to La Plata. The protest against the elections, published in some of the morning papers, is the beginning of a new political drama which was first whispered and is now openly talked of. They all say that La Plata will be thrown over by everyone and the Provincial "Capital established in Belgrano or Flores. We decline to publish all the news stirring about this all important subject, but there is evidently something, and something very serious in the wind, and time and events will probably work out great changes.

The mole was crowded to-day with friends to see Mr. Carroll, Mr. Watson and Mr. O'Dwyer off. The Galileo leaves a very full ship, and the passengers had good weather to get off.

We welcome back with great pleasure Mr. Constant Santa Maria, who has returned from Europe after a long European trip. Mr. Santa Maria has an immense circle of friends in the Plate.

Captain Eills, so well-known in the Plate, is now at Calcutta, in command of the splendid steamer High Field.

No steamer to-night from Montevideo. Captain Hairby, of the Maskelyne, landed his mails at Montevideo to-day. Mr. M. G. Mulhall co-editor, and proprietor of this paper, who was expected out in this steamer, was unable to come owing to his wife having caught the malaria fever in Rome. The Maskelyne comes up on Friday night.

The storm, strange to say, continues in Montevideo, and it was blowing hard down there all day long.

Mr. Matthew Forrester leaves on Saturday, for Montevideo to catch the Galicia for Europe. We wish him and Mrs. Forrester a pleasant trip, and hope to see them back again in the spring.

Lieutenant Stanley Clark has arrived over from the Banda Oriental; he leaves for England, much charmed with the River Plate, and intends to return in a couple of years and invest in a few square leagues of land, and stock them.

Mr. Barclay, the New Zealander, has arrived back from San Antonio de Areco. He visited the Guerrico estancia, he says that any of the land that he saw in his trip would be bought up immediately in New Zealand at, at least, £20 stg. per acre, and considered a splendid bargain. Mr. Guerrico should take note of this, also Mrs. Mooney and Mr Morgan, £120,000 stg. per square league, and dead cheap at that price.

About 600 Certificados Nat. Bank sold to-day at 45 prem. One lot, 100, offered at 5o for end of month.

Discounts much easier, and money to be had at all the banks.

We give two special telegrams in another column, from Antwerp and London. There are other telegrams in the market giving wool down and hides in N. York at 25 cts.

A new messiza silver and copper cent coin was exhibited on 'Change by a leading American merchant; the coin represents 12 cents of our money.

We note in the report of the meeting in London of the Australian Agricultural Company, that the Directors sold a portion of their Australian land known as the Plate estate, at the very splendid figure of Eighty pounds sterling per acre, which gives for the league £528,000, and yet this land is double our distance from Europe and not one half as fertile as Trenquelauquen land. The Company had for its last clip 1536 bales. When shall we have a company in the Plate indicated in London that will have such a wool clip.

A merchant who some months ago bought several leagues of land for account of a party in Europe, has received by the mail a reply from his friend, not only approving of the purchase at ten thousands pats a league but expressing an opinion that land so situated as described seems to be thrown away at such a price.

Mr. H. H. Woodgate has arrived back from Rosario. Mr Callan is in Rosario.

The wool from Mr Williamson's fine estancia on the Sauce Corto, Santa Isabel, was sold in the South Market at 100 ⅝ per arr., and the novillos coming to the Corrales from the estancia fetch 400 ⅝.

The inauguration of the Great Southern Railway will only be postponed 15 days by the floods.

At after hours there was a let up in National Bank certificados; one party swept the market clean of every certificado offered at 45 premium and none can be had now under 50 premium, and even at that price only a few can be purchased; 35 premium for the end of the year was offered, but the business was not done. National Bank Shares ruled so so, at a late hour about 500 sold at 137½ sellers. Cedulas as hard as a nut at 86½ E, and F at 85½. Exchange American paper passed this afternoon at 47½. Francs offering at 5.02 on France.

"The Toro just in, could not discharge her cargo, owing to the shocking state of the 'galpon' in the old port, she will be delayed also as her screw is out of of order. The Loire entered with the Toro, she brings 1500 tons of carzo, much of it for here; the new firm starting here, Moya & Garay, have in goods on board over 2 millions ⅝, and had to leave much behind in the Riachuelo, the steamers being unable to take all. The Loire had to discharge at the Railway mole, it being impossible to discharge elsewhere, and the agents of the steamers were able to get waggons to take the goods to Lomas Paraguay, consignees paying the Railway ⅛ small freight. The Loire has 60 passengers on board for Patagones and 20 more she takes in here (Bahia Blanca) 80 in all. She sails for Patagones on 5th inst. and goes down to Santa Cruz. she has 300 tons of coal for Port Deseado. On 16th the new Platense steamer for Patagones, the Sully is expected, she is 1700 tons and will have a full cargo. The American War vessel Nipsic will remain a week here and then go on her voyage South calling at the ports, her commander has not yet come ashore.

This evening business in general closes until Saturday morning, and the customary Holy Week police regulations will be in force.

The Magellan and Maskelyne mails will be up in the morning. No telegram to-night but Mr Oldham has despatched a special steamer this morning to repair the break between Montevideo and Maldonado, so we may expect the cable to be repaired quickly, and this will be a better service than the land line.

A general meeting of the Pagaré Committee is to be held this evening at the club, and business of great importance to be discussed.

As will appear by the following, some branches of French trade are very brisk. We cut the following from the last number of the Economist:—

"Now that so many complaints are heard of declining trade, it is satisfactory to learn that there is one district from which good accounts are heard. The writer of a letter from Lille states that the mills there are fully occupied. The flax spinners are putting up new machinery. Two firms are being founded for making the low numbers of cotton yarn. The weavers would take on more hands, if they were to be had, but none are to be found either at Lille or Roubaix. At the Lille ironworks also, skilled workmen are wanted and cannot be obtained. The only men unable to find employment are unskilled labourers.

"Similar advices are received from Roubaix and Tourcoing, where there is great activity in the production of articles classed as pure wool. For fancy goods with cotton warp, makers have ceased to attempt to compete with the German towns, where the prices of labour are so much lower. For fine upholstery goods the makers at Roubaix hold their ground, and this branch of trade is especially busy, from 800 to 1,000 pieces being turned out weekly."

It appears that the Minister of Hacienda Nacional, Dr. Plaza, has passed a note to the President of the Provincial Bank, intimating that all pagares, letras etc, discounted by that Bank, must henceforward have a National stamp, notwithstanding that such pagares or letras may be dated as is the custom to the present, at Flores, Belgrano, Barracas, etc. One of our colleagues calculates that the import of these stamps to the nation will be at least 30,000 nat. dollars. The matter is of much importance to the market, as the Provincial Bank being a Provincial Institution requires a provincial stamp on everything, and if this new rule be carried out, the borrowing public will be doubly taxed, having to pay for 2 stamps instead of one.

The Mint paid out to-day about 40,000 m/n in silver and copper coins.

Messrs Lavalle & Moores, in their important cattle circular, dated 16th to 31st March, 1884, give the following:—

It appears from some figures given in a recent speech by Mr. Bonderali, the chief engineer to the Northern of France Railway Company, that, in point of speed at any rate, English railways still stand first. The actual speed attained there sometimes reaches 65½ miles an hour, while in France, Germany and America it never exceeds 62½. The average "mean speed" (i.e. the speed measured by the time taken between terminal stations) is 48½ miles an hour with English express trains, and 45 with French. Mr. Banderali points out that the English railways have one advantnge to start with, for it is not obligatory, as it in most foreign countries, to slacken at crossings. In the matter of fares, England and France enjoy the distinction of charging third-class passengers more than any country except Turkey. The average fare in Turkey is 8.75 centimes per kilometer (five-eighths of a mile), in France 6.75, and in England 6.74. Norway is by far the cheapest country for railway travelling, the third-class fares there averaging 1.4 centime, and next come Russia and Belgium, where the average fare is 1-75 centime per kilometre.

The "Flying Italian" is now the name for the Veloce Company's steamers. The Nord America took a large mail—16.650 letters and 4,600 newspapers. Soon nobody will write by any other steamers. The "Flying Italian is, in reality, a "Flying Scotchman"—the Stirling Castle.

Governor Rocha intends passing the holidays in La Plata—a cheerful place for a holiday. All the official belongings of the two Legislative Chambers were sent out to the new capital yesterday.

"Tandem Aliquando." The Passover of the Powers of the Province is at hand. All the household gods, etc, of the Finance Minister are boxed and labelled—waggons are only waiting to send them on. On Monday, probably, the great installation will take place, as both Ministerios will then be re-open-

The search for poor Sub-Lieut. Rivas, who disappeared in the Chaco some time ago, is still being carried on vigorously, and two more strong detachments have been sent to look for him. We greatly fear that any further efforts will prove useless. If the unfortunate boy were in the land of the living, he would have been found ere this.

The Muriett a expedition has arrived back safely in Santa Fé from the Gran Chaco. At Monte Ayguara they found an officer's horse saddled, and some traces of Indians. The horse is believed to have belonged to Sub-Lieut. Rivas, so there can be little doubt now as to the poor young fellow's fate. The whole party is about to start at once on another expedition, from Reconquista, across the Northern part of the Muriett a territory.

There is a hitch in the removal of the Provincial Law Courts to La Plata. The Supreme Court has cheerfully acceded to the petition of numerous litigants not to move till next year, and, if the Government insists, then all the Judges will fling up their wigs and resign. The hot pitch ingredient in this La Plata "pot pourri" is now coming to the surface. The recent terrible weather has convinced everybody concerned that La Plata is as yet quite uninhabitable, except for labourers and those accustomed to roughit; but it is absurd to expect venerable judges and people of their class to expose their lives in such a hole during a severe winter. There is a strong impression gaining ground that the La Plata bubble is about to burst with a "crach" louder than ever heard before in the Plate.

Mr. Frederico Lacroze, the Tramway King, left for Europe yesterday in the Orenoque. We wish him a pleasant trip. Before he returns we hope there will be a sharp fall in tramway fares, say to four cents.

There is a chance for a land bargain at Ensenada on Saturday, when there will be an auction of land near the port. Land lots in Ensenada show a rising tendency for some time past.

We received the following interesting note yesterday, and are much obliged to Messrs. Gibson Bros for their kind attention.

Dear Standard,

In these days of floods in the Far South it may interest your readers to learn the average rainfall in Ajo for 23 years ending 31st Dec b. 1882, namely 31·83 inches. The maximum year was 44 inches, and the minimum 19·99.

Yours truly

Gibson Bros.

The newest cigarettes in the market are "Napoleons" in silver paper packages, with a portrait of Le Petit Caporal in his favourite attitude on the wrapper. These cigarettes come from the United States, and are very good; but we have so many home brands of cigarettes that the imported articles have no chance.

A son of St. Crispin has disappeared from Calle Florida leaving his afflicted creditors a lot of boots, shoes and slippers a mile too big and too small for them. Nobody knows where he has gone to.

Mr. Francisco Duval, undoubtedly a relative of the great mimic actor, was relieved of 1729 Nats. last evening. In giving notice to the police, he stated that he thought it occurred while he was in the Cafe del Plata.

A funny affair occurred at the Rosario police office a few days ago A "sujeto" named Candido entered and candidly told the Commissary that he wished to be arrested on the spot, as he was afraid to live in the same house as his mother-in-law any longer, lest he should be tempted to "do" for her. The Commissary gave him Punch's advice—"don't"—and dismissed him with his blessing. "A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind."

Eating sand, like fowl, is the latest patent medicine discovered in the United States. A gentleman named Webb Barber is said to have tried it with success.
